Attached is Chicago FBI 44-1114-774. It refers to receipt of a letter, not provided, from one Ray Russell, who knew an address of the recent escapee, James Earl Ray, and even the alias under which Ray was, his brother's.

Obviously this is something that required any investigation, the beginning of which is ordered in this record.

The results of this investigation have not been provided to me.

If there was an interview with Russell and his name was obliterated, then I would not have any way of knowing.

If his name was withheld, it is also obvious that the withholding is not justified.

When and how the criminal Russell knew the address and alias of Ray also is potentially important information that I presume the FBI obtained.
